Dear Alaska Chamber Friends,

Alaska Chamber Board Chair Cory Baggen is proud to announce the selection of the Chamber's new president and chief executive officer.

Please see the press release below.

Best regards,

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

March 28, 2019

Alaska Chamber hires Kati Capozzi as new president and CEO

Anchorage, Alaska — The Alaska Chamber today announced that its executive committee has hired Kati Capozzi as president and chief executive officer.

Ms. Capozzi most recently worked as the campaign manager for Stand for Alaska Vote No on 1, the group that worked to defeat Ballot Measure 1 in November 2018. The Vote No campaign was successful in soundly defeating the ballot measure, winning 62 percent of the statewide vote.

Prior to leading Stand for Alaska, Capozzi worked for five years as a communications and project manager for the Resource Development Council for Alaska (RDC). In that role, Capozzi monitored relevant legislation, managed large-scale events, and developed and managed RDC's communications plan.

"Kati Capozzi is a perfect match for this demanding role," said Cory Baggen, Chamber Chairman. "Her expertise in engaging Alaskans on the importance of a stable and competitive economic environment will serve the Chamber membership well.”

Having worked for the Alaska Oil and Gas Association and the Chamber in previous capacities, Capozzi takes the helm with years of experience.

In her new role with the Chamber, Capozzi will develop and implement plans to accomplish the priorities of the Chamber as defined by the Board of Directors and Chamber members. Capozzi will also lead advocacy efforts to ensure that priorities of Alaska’s businesses are known and properly considered in creation of policy and regulations, and act as the organization’s primary spokesperson.

NEWS RELEASE

Oct. 29, 2020

2020 Third Quarter Alaska Earnings Review

ANCHORAGE, Alaska – In connection with ConocoPhillips' third-quarter 2020 earnings announced earlier today, ConocoPhillips Alaska Inc. reported the following 2020 earnings facts.

ConocoPhillips Alaska (COPA) reported a net loss of $16 million in the third quarter of 2020, as reported in ConocoPhillips' earnings supplemental information. During the third quarter of 2020, the company incurred an estimated $136 million due to the State of Alaska in the form of production taxes, royalties, property taxes and state income tax.

Year to date, the company had an unadjusted net loss of $76 million, had estimated obligations to the state of Alaska (in the form of taxes and royalties) totaling $442 million, and spent $882 million in capital.

At an Alaska State Chamber meeting in September, Joe Marushack, president of ConocoPhillips Alaska, commented on the state of the oil industry in Alaska. "Low oil prices and demand destruction have shut down almost all drilling, and for the first time since Prudhoe, Alpine and Kuparuk have all been in production, no rigs are running in these fields," he said. Marushack noted that a restart of drilling to get the North Slope Renaissance back on track is unlikely to resume in 2021 if Ballot Measure 1 is approved.

Since 2007, ConocoPhillips Alaska has paid over $38 billion in taxes and royalties to the State of Alaska and the federal government. Of that amount, about $30 billion went directly to the State.
