Over 60 Indigenous writers, advisors, producers, voice-over actors and musicians are involved across the productions.

ABOUT ALASKA PUBLIC MEDIA

Alaska Public Media harnesses the power of multiple media platforms to make a more informed and connected life possible for all Alaskans. We produce and present news and content that provides lifelong learning opportunities in public affairs, health and leisure, science and nature, economic and social development, civic engagement and world events.

Located in Southcentral Alaska, we are comprised of KSKA radio, KAKM-TV, Create TV, PBS KIDS, and alaskapublic.org. Alaska Public Media also operates the Statewide News and a shared television service with KTOO in Juneau and KYUK in Bethel. Alaska Public Media and its affiliates deliver content that reaches 97% of the population of Alaska.
The National Educational Telecommunications Association (NETA) recognized public media’s achievements at the The 53rd Annual Public Media Awards (PMAs) Gala held virtually at the 2022 NETA Conference and CPB Public Media Thought Leader Forum.

The Public Media Awards presented by NETA honors the highest caliber work in programming, education, marketing and engagement of member public media. A mosaic of relevant content that reflects both creativity and diversity that paint rich stories of truth and consequence. Piece by piece and member by member, we come together as choreographers of the public good, to spark more imagination and inspiration than we ever could have alone.

Alaska Public Media (AKPM) was nominated in five categories, walking away with the win in three.

"Our entire staff is dedicated to providing the best public media service we can. I witness this commitment to excellence every day," said Ed Ulman, AKPM President & CEO. "But these awards and nominations are special because they represent the professional opinions of industry peers who have determined that our work is among the very best local public media organizations can offer. We are humbled by this recognition and energized to do more."

Preventing Youth Suicide in Alaska - Well Beings Tour, project partners National Alliance on Mental Illness (NAMI Anchorage), Mental Health Through Storytelling (MHATS) and WETA

"Congratulations to all of this year’s nominees and awardees,” said NETA president Eric Hyypaa. He continued, “this year the entries were outstanding and shined a spotlight on the work that is happening across the system.”

With the exception of the overall excellence categories, stations competed within their appropriate divisions based on their station size. Awards were judged by a group of expert panelists from within the public media system, as well as industry professionals working outside of public media.

Dozens of mushers and hundreds of sled dogs will start their 1,000-mile dash to Nome in early March, kicking off the 2022 Iditarod Trail Sled Dog Race.

The 50th Iditarod is expected to be a competitive race, with several former champions hoping to seize another title, including five-time champ Dallas Seavey, who lives in Talkeetna, and his dad, three-time champ Mitch Seavey from Seward. Also, Bethel’s Pete Kaiser and Willow’s Joar Leifseth Ulsom are racing for their second victory.

Alaska Public Media will have daily coverage on KSKA 91.1 FM and at alaskapublic.org. Also, the Iditapod podcast is back!

We’re excited to be sending a team to cover the race from the trail again this year.

Reporter Lex Treinen and photojournalist Jeff Chen will bring you stories and images from checkpoints on the teams’ path to Nome — sharing tales of the obstacles, the victories and, maybe most importantly, the dogs racing through the wilderness.

Reporter Casey Grove is also back in the host seat of the Iditapod, our Iditarod podcast that is now in its sixth season.

And new this year: We’re launching a daily Iditarod newsletter. Digital editor Tegan Hanlon will collect the day’s Iditarod stories, photographs and new podcast episodes in a daily email.

We hope you’ll follow along!

Here’s how:

• Bookmark alaskapublic.org/Iditarod to check out our new Iditarod coverage daily, from breaking news to feature stories to photos from the trail.

• Sign up for our Iditarod newsletter at alaskapublic.org/newsletters. The newsletter will be your one-stop shop for the latest stories, podcast episodes and photos. It’ll be delivered straight to your inbox from the start of the Iditarod until there’s a 2022 champion.

• Subscribe to the Iditapod on your favorite podcast app for another 12-part season. Get out on the trail — into checkpoints, down along the sea ice, and across the finish line in Nome. Hear interviews with mushers, behind the scenes news and in-depth race analysis you won’t find anywhere else.

• Tune into KSKA 91.1 FM during the Alaska Morning News and Alaska News Nightly or check your local listings for statewide coverage.

Follow an Alaskan professor as he raises and studies a day octopus in his home, making remarkable discoveries about its extraordinary intelligence, personality and skills. Octopuses are able to recognize faces and interact with other individuals and the octopus is the closest we may get to meeting an alien. They evolved from a common cousin more than 500 million years ago, but are also intelligent creatures with proven problem-solving abilities. So what happens when you invite an eight-legged alien into your living room? This documentary follows marine biologist David Scheel as he tracks his evolving relationship with his own octopus.

2022 CREATE COOKING CHALLENGE OPEN FOR SUBMISSIONS

Calling all cooks! The Create Cooking Challenge is back. Focused on family food traditions passed through generations, this year’s theme is My Family Recipe. The challenge, which seeks America’s next great cooking star, opens for video entries on March 8, 2022.

Sponsored by American Public Television (APT) since 2016 and featured on Create TV, the contest is designed to engage public media viewers who are interested in being part of Create TV’s lifestyle content. Past challenges have led to the discovery of amazing, diverse talent from more than 100 markets across the country. Hundreds of entrants have participated, with nearly 80 winners gaining a strong presence on CreateTV.com. Create TV is one of public television’s leading multi-cast channels, with more than 40 million viewers annually.

In order to encourage even more representation of public television’s diverse audiences, The Create Cooking Challenge: My Family Recipe invites viewers to submit recipes that reflect their family’s heritage, favorite traditional dishes, or regional cuisine. Interested viewers will need to submit a video, two minutes or less, demonstrating their recipe and sharing it’s history in their family. Viewers will also need to submit a still photo of the dish and the recipe. The top 18 winning entries and a select group of additional recipes will be the first entries into the Create Heritage Recipe Collection, a new online feature being added to CreateTV.com.

The contest is open to anyone 18 years of age and older - from home cooks to professional chefs. Entrants will be judged by five popular Create TV culinary experts: Kevin Belton (Kevin Belton’s Cookin’ Louisiana), Pati Jinich (Pati’s Mexican Table), Diane Kochilas (My Greek Table), Nick Stellino (Storytellers in the Kitchen), and Martin Yan (Yan Can Cook!).

The Grand Prize Winner will receive $4,000 cash and production equipment valued at $1,000 to complete a 10-episode web series for CreateTV.com. The Second Prize Winner will receive $1,000 cash and the same production equipment valued at $1,000 to complete a 3-episode digital series for CreateTV.com. In addition, APT will give an award of $3,500 to help each winner’s public media station introduce and promote them to local audiences!

Eager to enter? Find out how, see contest rules and more at CreateTV.com/challenge. The Create Cooking Challenge: My Family Recipe closes at midnight April 5, 2022.
